- You can expand your training capacity and revenues by training both Microsoft Dynamics end users and value-added reselling partners.
- Microsoft is committed to increasing training demand through promotion of the Microsoft Dynamics brand. As an MCT, you can use this increase in training demand to conduct training on these business management solutions, allowing you to become recognized in the Microsoft Dynamics end user and value-added reselling partner communities as one of the Microsoft recognized training experts on Microsoft Dynamics products.
- By joining the MCT program with a Microsoft Dynamics competency you can get a jumpstart on the competition in meeting the needs of both Microsoft Dynamics end users and consultants who sell and implement Microsoft Dynamics products.

By achieving the Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Professional credential, you are only steps away from becoming a Microsoft Certified Trainer for Microsoft Dynamics™

Microsoft Certified Trainers (MCT) are the premier technical and instructional experts in Microsoft solutions. To ensure a superior learning experience for our customers, MCTs are the only individuals that Microsoft authorizes to deliver training that is based on Official Microsoft Learning Products or Microsoft Dynamics Learning Products for the MCT program. In addition, MCTs will be qualified to deliver training for Microsoft Certified Partners for Learning Solutions. These partners are required to identify an associated MCT that is a Microsoft Certified Business Management Solutions Professional or a Microsoft Dynamics MCT program qualifier in order to deliver Microsoft Dynamics Courseware to their customers.

Currently there are three Microsoft Dynamics MCT competencies:

- Microsoft Dynamics – Application
- Microsoft Dynamics – Development
- Microsoft Dynamics – Installation & Configuration

The Microsoft Certified Trainer program allows individuals with knowledge on Microsoft Dynamics to round out their current skill set and expand their Microsoft Dynamics training and consulting business to differentiate themselves from their competition.
