

Windows Intune Volume Licensing

With so much business taking place outside of the traditional office, you need the ability to manage PCs from anywhere.

Windows Intune™ delivers cloud-based management and security capabilities using a single Web-based console that enables your users and your IT staff to work from virtually anywhere — all that's required is an Internet connection.

Use the Windows® 7 Enterprise upgrade included in the service to give your users the best Windows experience and standardize your PCs on a single version of Windows.

With Windows Intune, you get big technology results with a small technology investment. Windows Intune offers a comprehensive solution with no infrastructure setup, low overhead, and simple billing.

With Windows Intune you can:

- Manage updates and proactively monitor PCs
- Protect PCs from malware and set security policies
- Provide remote assistance
- Inventory hardware and software
- Upgrade to Windows 7 Enterprise Edition or run select prior Windows releases

Your employees depend on you to keep their PCs running at their best, whether they are in the office or on the road. Windows Intune simplifies how businesses manage and secure PCs using Windows cloud services and Windows 7 — so your computers and users can operate at peak performance.

Benefits of Windows Intune Licensing

- Convenient: An easy way to transition to cloud services when it makes sense for your business.
- Manageable: Options for responding to additions and variations in your workforce size.
- Cost Effective: No incremental online service costs in the year a user transitions.
- Flexible: Allows you to move devices back and forth between on-premises and online services.

Windows Intune Purchase Options

Customers have two ways to license Windows Intune. Given the type of service, licenses are purchased by device (PC) rather than by user.

Windows Intune through an Enterprise Agreement

The Enterprise Agreement (EA) is the best licensing program for organizations with more than 250 devices. The EA gives you the flexibility to choose among on-premises software and online services to best suit your user needs and help you optimize your technology spend. Contact your Microsoft account manager or local reseller for more details, or visit www.microsoft.com/licensing/online-services.

Windows Intune through the Microsoft Online Subscription Program

The Microsoft Online Subscription Program (MOSP) is designed specifically for organizations with less than 250 devices. With MOSP, you can easily subscribe, manage, and deploy your Windows Intune services online. To subscribe, please visit www.microsoft.com/online.

SKU	Definition	Availability
Windows Intune	Device Subscription License (DSL) including Windows 7 Enterprise and desktop management and security services offered in a single SKU	Enterprise Agreement (EA), EA Subscription (EAS), and MOSP
Windows Intune Add On	Device Subscription License (DSL) including desktop management and security services available as an add-on for existing Software Assurance (SA) customers	EA, EAS, and Enrollment for Education Solutions (EES)
