Software Assurance: Training for the latest wave of Microsoft technologies.

Software Assurance training benefits help boost productivity by providing technical classroom training for IT professionals and developers, and opportunities to enhance end-user readiness, all designed to ensure effective and efficient deployment, management, support and adoption of new Microsoft software without impacting your training budget.

Software Assurance training benefits provides technical and end-user training through two modalities: Software Assurance Training Vouchers for in-classroom training and Software Assurance E-Learning for online training. We encourage you to use these benefits together to get trained on the latest versions of Microsoft technology to help support your next deployment.
