

Microsoft Licensing Agreements Comparison

Microsoft Products and Services Agreement, Select Plus Agreement and Microsoft Online Subscription Agreement

offers transactional purchasing for organizations that want to purchase software and Online Services as needed. Compare the available offers to see which is right for your organization.

The new Microsoft Products and Services Agreement is a single agreement for your software and Online Services transactional purchases across an organization. It can save time and money by combining purchase points for the best price level and reducing the administrative overhead associated with managing multiple agreements.

Microsoft Select Plus offers automatic price savings on transactional software purchases across an organization and improved asset management for its affiliates and departments.

The Microsoft Online Subscription Program is a subscription-based program for organizations that want to subscribe to, activate, provision, and maintain services seamlessly and affordably. MOSP is a flexible way for an organization to add online services.
