Feature Experience Parity Exceptions and Roadmap

June, 2024

The deployment of Business Applications in each geography is built on the foundational principles of security, privacy, compliance, transparency, reliability, and in-country disaster recovery, offering organizations a complete cloud infrastructure and platform, as well as familiar productivity and business application tools. This means that customer data is stored at rest within the geography, except as noted in the Trust Center (<https://www.microsoft.com/en-us/trust-center/privacy/data-location>).

Microsoft strives to maintain functional parity across our localized data center deployments. However, there are exceptions affected by dependent service availability, market priorities, or compliance regulations. These exceptions are indicated through the Product and Feature Availability table below and intended to help customers understand and plan for successful implementation of their business application solutions. Microsoft continues to evaluate these services and capabilities for inclusion and updates in future releases.

A status is provided for each Feature. They include:

Available: This feature is Generally Available in the Geo

Roadmap: This feature is on the product roadmap for deployment into this Geo, but a committed date has not yet been established

Not Available/No Plans: This feature is not on the roadmap and there are no actions underway to evaluate its inclusion for the Geo

Public Preview: This feature is available as a Public Preview feature in the Geo

Private Preview: This feature is available as a Private Preview feature in the Geo

Limited - See Documentation: This feature is available in the Geo, however the documentation explains unique details about its functionality in the Geo

Workaround Available: While the feature, directly, is not available in the Geo, there is a documented workaround to achieve the same or similar functional intent. Please refer to the feature documentation for more information.

Furthermore, to aide in general planning, anticipated availability timeframes are provided wherever possible. They are expressed as Calendar Year – Half (e.g. CY22-H1) or Calendar Year – Quarter (e.g. CY22-Q3), wherein:

H1: January through June

H2: July through December

Q1: January through March

Q2: April through June

Q3: July through September

Q4: October through December

For the Finance and Supply Chain Management Products, it is important to understand where Lifecycle Services customer data is stored. Please refer to additional documentation located here: <https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/dynamics365/fin-ops-core/dev-itpro/deployment/deployment-options-geo>.

Please note that these are projections in our roadmap, and subject to change without notice. This information is updated and published every 4-6 weeks and represents our projections at that time. Until a feature is marked as Available, these timeframes are subject to change without prior notice.

For more information about these exceptions, if you have a feature gap to add that you do not see here, if you observe an inaccuracy, or for questions about service availability, please contact your Microsoft representative or Support (<https://dynamics.microsoft.com/support>).

Please contact your Microsoft representative for more information related to the US Sec and US Nat Geographies.

BAP CoPilot Capabilities for US Gov Geos: Azure OpenAI in the Public Global Azure cloud has achieved FedRAMP High compliance. However, the Business Application teams are actively investigating the potential to enable BAP CoPilot features with the Public Azure OpenAI service to support GCC and GCC High CoPilot features. No timeline projections or commitments are available at this time to enable a cross-cloud integration.
